

DAILY OF ESTABROOK.—On the 20th inst., Mr. Campbell of Pennsylvania, from the committee on Contested Elections, in the House of Representatives reported, in the Nebraska admitted case, in favor of Samuel G. Davis's right to the seat at Delegate in Congress from this Territory. Gen. Estabrook will now be required to take oath, to establish his right to the seat he now holds. We hope he will do so at once, so that this matter may be ended. If he is entitled to the seat, there will be no difficulty in showing it. If he is not it is but right he should vacate in favor of Davis. We hope to see the matter put to rest this session, so that it will not be dragged into our Territorial election next fall.

HOME MATTERS.

VERY FAST.—One Hubbell of Sioux City— we think that is the name—of small stature, but huge pretensions, accompanied by somebody who shall be nameless so far as this narration extends, feeling like performing deeds of bold daring, armed himself with an unscrupulous revolver, and directed his course toward Dakota City. Towering high above surrounding objects he beheld the majestic proportions of our own Bates House. He resolved to knock all the preludings out of the celebrated feats of Hercules and Sampson, by taking it to pieces, piling the said pieces together into a bundle, and placing the aforesaid bundle on his shoulder, and walking over to Sioux City. Whether small bets were pending on the accomplishment of the feat, or in accordance with Prof. Winship's teaching, he was desirous of exhibiting his muscular powers, we will not say. Suffice, he saw, but did not conquer. Concluding the doors would be easiest to dislocate, he rushed up stairs and unhung No. 4. He next attacked No. 5, (the editor's quarters,) when he was seized by the nap of the neck and sent of his breeches, and ejected into the street. He protested against this style of inviting a man into the open air, as being unusual among gentlemen. Threats of having leathered extremities applied to his posterior induced him to become suddenly scarce.

HOUSE STOLEN!—On last Saturday night, Mr. Fritchard of this county, placed one of his horses in the stable and allowed the other to remain outside. On the following morning the animal left outside, was gone. He at once instituted a vigorous search, in which he was assisted by several of his neighbors, and scoured the bottom of the whole length and breadth, but found no trace of the missing animal. The probability is, that the horse was stolen by the man mentioned a couple or three weeks ago, if he has succeeded in carrying off this horse, our citizens may rest assured he will try again, before long, to get another. It would be well to adopt some means to either secure the horse, or catch the villain, and his accomplices.

New Church.—We are glad to be able to announce, that we are in a good way to have a handsome new Lutheran Church erected on the corner of Fifteenth and Hickory streets, this summer. The timber and lumber are being hauled on the ground, at the present time, and everything indicates it will be no halfway job, but will be finished at once.— This fact argues well for the spirit and liberality of our citizens; and surely they can contribute no more laudable enterprise than the erection of houses of worship. Where the church spire is wanting, there indeed has elevation made slow progress, and it strongly argues a laxity of morals. Churches and school houses we must have.

A NEW ESTABLISHMENT.—A suspicious looking rig was encamped on the verge of our town for a few days during the week. The male accompaniment was a "rough." The female was a "woman" reported as "no better than she ought to be." Some of our citizens who took an interest in the concern, kindly invited them to abscuttle without further delay, as another delegation intended to present them with a coat of tar and feathers.— They departed in short order but camped again this side of St. Johns, where they proposed to renew their efforts to take people in "out of the wet."

NEARLY A CONFLAGRATION.—On Wednesday morning last, about eight o'clock, our office took fire in proximity to the stove pipe, and the flames commenced spreading rapidly.— Before they fairly got under way a "hook and ladder" turn was taken on the ignited parts, and they were furiously wrenches from contact with the surrounding combustibles. A bucket of water soon changed the lurid flames into blackened and charred remains; and deprived us of a very choice local item.

Leprosy.—This disease has attacked our fellow citizens of Covington, so that the distinction between men and women, is closely observed. Two of them called in a couple of Coke's disciples from Sioux City, to prescribe for a clepsamia for logs and trees, the other day. The prescription, of course, was to first relieve the patients' pockets of any financial platitude they might be suffering under, and then fill them with legal acid gas. We hope the disease may spread.

NEW PAPER.—We are in receipt of the Missouri Register published at Laclede, Lion County Missouri. It has just started and has a Johnson at the mast head for Editor. If restlessness is any credit to a paper it certainly can arrogate a good deal to itself, on that score, for it makes a fine display of mechanical skill. Politically it is independent, aside of a played out hobby; in fact, forsooth itself. Come out of that Mr. Johnson! come out of that!

OMISSIONS.—We omitted last week to call attention to the Card of Dr. Graff, Potatoes for Sale, and Mayor Bates' notice to list synopses. Read them this week.

WILLIS PARKE.—We were unable to attend the party given at Mr. Willis' residence on Thursday evening. It was a fine affair from what we have learned, and reflects credit on his taste and judgment. The girls were well pleased with the boys, and the boys danced all night, till broad day light, &c.

VISITORS.—Mrs. Dr. G. H. Graff, Mrs. Col. E. F. Mason, and Mrs. Col. C. Bates visited our saloon on Saturday last. This institutee itself complimented by these calls from the ladies, and hopes to merit their frequent friendly visits.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—We observed a notice posted in two conspicuous places in town, notifying electors of this municipality that an election is to be held on the 9th of next month for city officers. Who are the candidates?

THE MISSOURI REPUBLICAN.

The stirring events which are sure to make memorable the year 1858, the recurrence of the elections, the trials of the leaders of the Anti-slavery party in that year—the extraordinary division of parties in that election, sectional in character, so far as one of them is concerned, and National and Conservative, as the Democratic party must be; for it holds almost equal rank with the National party; the Anti-slavery party is triumphant in the south and the slaveholding states; all these things exists in us a desire to extend the circulation of the Republican to every far west which does not now exist. With this view we send out this number, and hope to have a large circulation. In the last three or four years, we have failed to maintain our position perfectly understood, we have been peculiarly unfortunate. We do not think we have, however. We have opposed Slave Republicans. In every shape and form to the best of our ability, and have done so with great success. We have also been instrumental in bringing about the recent Presidential election. It matters very little whether Mr. H. S. Foote shall be a member of the party in opposition to the Democratic party, or that our sugar-coated candidate should be elected. We have done our duty, and in doing our duty in our efforts to elect such有名人物. We are for the preservation of the Union, and believing that the election of the Black Republican candidate who endanger, H. S. Foote does not ensure, its dissolution, we regard this occasion enough to justify our course in this direction.

In the matter of the state politics, we shall take our stand on all questions as they may arise. We are for granting aid to the Railroads set up unfeigned, and continuing the grade roads incorporated made available. We know that we can only do our duty by the exercise of sound judgment and the assumption of responsibility when it is right and proper to do so. We shall regard exceedingly to those great interests which depend upon us, and those who are interested in bringing it about, if unfortunately each should be the case, to a just account before the people—all depends upon the completion of these roads, and we shall not fail in bringing down our voices upon those who fall into the ranks of the traitor party.

Of the People, and for the People—contained by them, and having no other ambition than to advance the interests of the State, and of the City in which we live. We have all our hearts and equally watchful for the welfare of the Union, and for the maintenance of the Constitution under all circumstances—the Republicans will never in devotion to our country, and for the welfare of the people—

As a newspaper, we stand alone, as we have liberally given to the public any information we can obtain, and having no other ambition than to advance the interests of the State, and of the City in which we live. We have all our hearts and equally watchful for the welfare of the Union, and for the maintenance of the Constitution under all circumstances—the Republicans will never in devotion to our country, and for the welfare of the people—

We are surprised to see some question raised to our stand on the subject of increasing circulation. For a year to come, no man nor family in the Union should be without a newspaper. The Newspaper Press is the great Anteroom in this country. More than the Pulpit, the Bar, or the halls of the legislature, they publish the news of the world, and the public press is highly important that that opinion should be controlled and kept in proper channels so as to secure the perpetuity of our institutions, and the prosperity of the Peoples. This is the great mission of the newspaper press, and in all things we shall endeavor to conduct the Republicans respectfully solicited.
